BEARING OF A NEGRO IN ALABAMA.
We find the following account of the bearing of a negro named Moss, at Abbeville, Alabama, in the Atlanta-Naturalist. The crime for which Moss was hanged was the murder of his master.
A large concourse of people was assembled at Abbeville, to witness the execution of the negro. The negro was taken from the jail by the guard, and placed in a cage. The negro was then taken to the gallows, and placed on it. The negro was then hanged, and the body was left to rot on the gallows. The negro was then taken down, and the body was buried in a hole in the ground. The negro was then taken to the jail, and the body was buried in a hole in the ground. The negro was then taken to the jail, and the body was buried in a hole in the ground.

THE WAY THEY MARRY, SOMETIMES.
IN INDIANA—Our Hoosier friends have a way of their own in finding their partners and suitors, and, unfortunately, the consequence, of conventionalities. We have heard of an instance in which a father and son married two sisters, the father marrying the elder, and the son the younger. The father was a wealthy man, and the son was a poor man. The father was a wealthy man, and the son was a poor man. The father was a wealthy man, and the son was a poor man.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some faint smudges and discoloration, characteristic of old paper. The right edge of the page is dark, indicating the binding or the edge of the book. There is no text or other markings on the page.
